Police Drive for Red Cross

The police drive for the Red Cross ended Saturday, Jan. 14th, which netted $20,000 and was highly gratifying to the general superintendent, as expressed in a letter to the department. This was a personal compliment to the popularity of Col. John J. Garrity, who appealed to his men in a circular letter of Dec. 23rd with the above result.

There was a keen rivalry between the men of Englewood and South Englewood police stations, for the largest percentage of sales with the following results: Englewood, $675; Gresham, $532. Englewood had 24 men and Gresham 12, only about one-half of the latter made any showing so that South Englewood was easily the victor in percentage.

There was also a rivalry between the men of South Englewood. Sergt. Prendergast was with 286 sales and 25 magazines. Officer Hugh McGuire was next with 110 sales. Sergt. Prendergast was handicapped in this way that he was not allowed to solicit until the patrolmen were through and he collected the above on a check up system. But the patriotic business men and citizens of Auburn Park came to his rescue in the last moment and made a 100 per cent plus subscription to the fund in his honor in view of the great services he has rendered to his country since the war started. The following are in the roll of honor:

We, the undersigned, pledge ourselves individually to pay one dollar or more to the Red Cross Plus Fund in honor of Sergt. Prendergast of the 12th Precinct, who has worked faithfully for his country in all war activities in this vicinity since the war started up to date:

The South Englewood campaign was conducted under the able leadership of Capt. Malloy, now of East Chicago.

Sergt. Prendergast is high salesman in the 31st and 32nd wards in the Third and Fourth Liberty Loans, in Red Cross work in the 31st, 32nd and 9th wards, and in War Savings Stamps in the 32nd Ward. On Oct. 12th he organized the largest mass meeting ever held outside the loop, in which the Army and Navy participated in favor of the Fourth Liberty Loan and at the raising of a service flag on LaSalle St., between 59th and 60th Sts. in the 31st Ward, which netted thousands of dollars and smokes for the boys in the trenches.

His faithful war workers consisted of the Misses Marie and Esther Brennan, Margaret Lillis, Gertrude McLaughlin, Alice Malquist and Grace Markham, young society women of Auburn Park who labored with him during the campaign now ended.

He also speaks in the highest terms of the splendid ability and patriotism of Mrs. Robert Nightingale, the District Superintendent, whom he served under, and Mr. Chas. E. Woodrow and his patriotic wife and the many patriotic ladies who served with him in a labor of love and patriotism.

The people of Auburn Park are noted for their patriotism and turned in more money than any part of Chicago. The war is won, the American flag is flying over German soil, the Kaiser is a fugitive from justice, our glorious President is the premier of the world and the patriotic ladies of Auburn Park who participated in all war activities during the campaign just ended have voted Sergt. Prendergast 100 per cent American.

Special services in the interest of the Centennary program of the Methodist Episcopal church will be held next Sunday at the Normal Park Church. Dr. Carliss Hargreaves of the state university of Columbus, Ohio, will speak at 10:30 and Dr. J. P. Jenkins at 7:30.

Among the former residents of the community who are planing to spend some weeks at Sea Breeze, Florida, are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, of 5211 University Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Miller, of 4717 Greenwood Ave., Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dickinson, of 5012 Woodlawn Ave., and their daughter, Mrs. George Allan Barton, of Kansas City.

The Home Unit, which met yesterday with Mrs. Walter Haskell of 7157 Princeton Ave., is busy with reconstruction work. This organization gave $50 to the tag day fund for the fatherless children of France and the same amount to the fund for the orphans of the British Empire.

Ward Moore died suddenly last Thursday and was buried Saturday from his late home, 7210 Wentworth Ave. Interment was at Mt. Hope.

The members of the Women's Bible class of the Normal Park Presbyterian Church will be guests at the "tacky" party to be given on Thursday evening at the E. W. Elder home, 7220 Princeton Ave.

The New Garment Guild of the Visiting Nurses association held the first meeting of the year on Wednesday at the home of Miss Frieda Messner, of 6911 Perry Ave.

The Mothers' Round Table will meet at Hamilton Park, Thursday, Jan. 23, 1919, at 3 p. m. Health Commissioner John Dill Robertson will address the meeting.

Judicious buyers of coal demand "Meiner's Special" or "Harrisburg for Heat" soft coal because it is the right size, gives off an immense heat, lasts all night and has no screenings. Can be used in any steam or hot water plant; also in hard coal furnaces or stoves. You will have no trouble to keep fire all night with this coal.

A wedding ring should fit the finger. If it is too large it is a sign of shallowness of purpose; if too tight it suggests that the union pinches somehow. A perfect fitting ring is symbolic of a perfect, harmonious union. We keep the proper kind in proper sizes and engrave any inscription you may want, free of charge.

Julia Arthur in "The Cavell Case"

Taken from history's most dramatic episode. An event which aroused the whole civilized world. The dramatic and appealing story of a great and noble woman, whom the world will never forget. Julia Arthur is the same Broadway favorite who made a tremendous hit in "The Eternal Magdalene." Her last appearance on the stage was in "Seremonda." Today the question being asked is this: Will she remain before the camera or go back on the stage?

What would you do? You can find out all about it by seeing Florence Reed in the great seven-part photodrama, "Wives of Men," at this theatre tonight

"Who Cares"

Who cares—who the devil cares? Do you c about anything or everything? Joan didn't care about anything See what happened to her.

Don't marry too young a girl Martin Grey did and he got into a peck of trouble Has old age the right to check the buoyancy of youth? Is a husband responsible for the actions of his wife? Constance Talmadge answers this question in "Who Cares? She loved him, but was too young to realize it She first found out what real love was when she thought she had lost him A story of youth and age love and romance, happiness and heartache

Joan is light-hearted and carefree, she believes in leaping before she looks She is fond of shrugging her shoulders and saying "Who Cares?" when someone suggests that she is likely to get into difficulties. So she marries in an off-hand way, and as she does not love her husband she dumposes him after marriage without admitting the obligations of the married state

How would you like to be dangling from a church steeple by the slack of your pants the way they fix Fred Stone He plays the part of a country guy who falls in love with a circus man's daughter and so gets mixed up with the gang on an the sawdust ring, and before you know it he's showing a bunch of tricks that make the performers themselves gape like a gang of hayseeds. As a matter of fact the story is to some extent the early life of Stone when he lived in a small town, and painted houses, and became a circus performer to earn his living. There is a tender little love romance running through the picture, and the portrayal of life under the big tops of a traveling circus is most realistically pictured You'll like it and so will the kiddies, so better take an evening off, and bring along the whole bloomin' family.

Hadn't Quite Understood.

Much amusement was created in a Melbourne (Australia) criminal court recently when a slightly deaf juror was being sworn. The judge repeated to him the words, "I swear by Almighty God so to do." Whereon the juryman declared, "I swear by Almighty God I'm sorry for you!"

Out of Sight.

Some men mysteriously disappear, and others marry famous actresses.—Atchison Globe.

Daily Thought.

There is no virtue so truly great and godlike as justice.—Addison.

Inhumanity and Waste.

The annual loss of life among food animals in transit to Chicago alone is reported to be as follows: Cattle, 1,796; calves, 2,198; swine, 9,380; sheep, 3,120. That the greater part of this loss is due, more than to anything else, to the cruel and inconsiderate treatment of these poor creatures in loading and unloading and on the journey no one will question who knows anything about the evils connected with the transportation of animals.

Recognized the Symptoms.

Little May had been sick and had her temperature taken with the thermometer several times. Shortly after, when out walking with her mother, she saw a man testing his tires with a little pressure gauge. Turning to her mother, she exclaimed: "Oh, look, mother; that poor tire must be sick, because the man's taking its temperature."

Great Mystery Solved.

Doctor Hirschberg says one of the most common causes of stammering is the temporary interruption of speech. You know it is one of the compensations of human existence to have the mystery of a lifetime solved in a jiffy. We ascertained some time back that hunger is frequently caused by a prolonged interruption of the movement of victuals to the stomach.—Houston Post.

Origin of "Torpedo."

The word torpedo is said by the authorities to owe its designation to the Latin verb "torpere," to be stiff, owing to its inauspicious appearance; probably also from its resemblance to the species of fish known by the same name.

Plurality Didn't Elect.

In all of the three times that he ran for president Grover Cleveland polled a plurality of the popular vote. In his second race, when he was defeated, his plurality over Harrison was 98,017.

Egyptian "Kissar."

The kissar is one of the most ancient of Egyptian instruments. It is found represented in monuments antedating the birth of Christ by 2,000 years. It consists of a circular body with a large triangular frame above, from the cross-bar of which five strings pass to the bottom of the frame. It is tuned to the pentatonic scale.

Siamese Musical Instruments.

The Siamese have an instrument which they call the ranat, a species of harmonicon, with 17 different wooden keys, united by cords and resting upon a stand, each strip of wood giving a different note. The instrument is played with two wooden hammers.

Steam Engine Helped.

It is an historic fact that the development of the steam engine enabled England to stand the cost of the wars with Napoleon and speedily enjoy a more widespread prosperity than the country had ever before known.

A Similarity.

Some great scientist said that an oyster is as complicated as a watch. We know that both run down easily.

Hughes—Yuzovka.

The first successful iron and steel mill in southern Russia having been established forty years ago by a man named Hughes, one of the largest steel centers in Ukrainia bears the name Yuzovka—in his honor.—Gas Logic.

Marmoset's Rival.

Mrs. Ellen Walker of Philadelphia keeps as her mascot a land turtle which she has had for twenty-five years, since it first wandered into the yard of her home. The turtle is carried with her on all her travels in a basket made for the purpose. During the summer it spends its time in the garden at the Walker home. In the winter it is kept in the basement.

Incongruities.

A St. Louis man, who was arrested, had a picture of his Sunday school teacher and one of a burlesque actress on his person. The Philadelphia Telegram has discovered a man whose diet is cream puffs and pig's feet. We know of a baseball writer whose hobby is Shakespeare.—Buffalo News.

Wanted Full Particulars.

Before little Bill and his mother reached auntie's home he was cautioned to be on his good behavior and to be nice to "mother's friends." But he was such a little boy to be good all the time, and a few hours after his arrival he apparently sized up the situation and asked, "Well, who else do I have to be nice to besides mother's friends, and Aunt Mary's friends, and Aunt Margaret's friends?"

Chinese Mouth Organ.

The Chinese have a singular instrument called cheng or mouth-organ. It is a circular bundle of small reeds of different lengths, pierced with finger-holes at proper distances, and communicating with a common air chamber beneath. The notes are produced by stopping the holes with the fingers.

Bestow Your Roses Now.

What a happy world this would be if only love and friendship would pay their debts as they go along! If the words of appreciation could come now while they are due, and the little gift brighten the way while it is hard, how much more they would be worth than when held back to become a part of the estate.—Exchange.

A Fighting Kansan.

An Atchison man has figured in so many church rows his wife has put a service flag in the window.—Ithaca Globe.

Quit Your Spattering.

To prevent an automobile spattering mud upon pedestrians there has been invented a flexible metal ring to be attached close to a tire.

And He Was Annoyed!

The Proprietor—"What made that customer walk out without buying anything? You didn't offend him, I suppose?" Shopman—"I don't think I did, sir. He asked me to show him a hat to suit his head and I showed him some of our soft felts."—Pearson's Weekly.

Iceland's Fisheries.

Iceland has excellent fisheries, among the best in the world, and her fishing industry is growing rapidly.

Safety for Saws.

In order to prevent damage to circular saws and danger to workmen, it has been found advisable to give all logs which come to a sawmill a thorough spraying with jets of water. This removes bits of rock or gravel before the logs go to the saw.

One Word Spoils All.

Just when a woman begins to be invited out a little by nice people her husband spoils it all by referring to the laundress as the washerwoman right out where everybody can hear.—Ohio State Journal.

Bully for Bill.

There was a city lady visiting some relatives in the country and as she was walking down the lane she saw some calves. Thinking to display her knowledge, she remarked: "Oh what pretty little cowlets." Bill, the farm boy, came up about that time, heard her remarks, and said: "Excuse me, miss, but them's bullets."—Boys' Life.

Paper From Bark.

Over 50 kinds of bark are now used to manufacture paper, besides banana skins, bean stalks, pea vines, cocoanut fiber, clover and hay straw, fresh water, weeds, seaweeds and over 150 kinds of grasses.

Caroni River Water Power.

The Caroni river in South America is said to have a remarkably even year around flow for a tropical stream and also to afford a great opportunity for the development of electrical power. There are three waterfalls within a short distance of the spot where it empties into the Orinoco river, and from the lowest of these it is estimated more than a million horsepower can be generated without any necessity of building dams.

Have No Silly Belief in Luck

All successful men have agreed in one thing—they were causationists. They believed that things went not by luck, but by law. Belief in compensation—or, that nothing is got for nothing—characterizes all valuable minds.—Emerson.

Some fellers think the first syllable of patriotism is spelt pay.—Baltimore Sun.

Welsh "Stafell."

Reference to a "stafell" in a recent West Wales breach of promise case puzzled the court. The "stafell" is the household linen usually brought by a Welsh bride to her new home. The custom, still practiced, is one of great antiquity. In early times a girl was not allowed to get married until she had spun the linen, and from it comes the term spinster. "Stafell" is now bought at the shop, to the old folks a degenerate innovation.

The Social Fabric.

To uphold the social system women submit to uncounted tests of their constancy. They endure physical discomfort, ennui, the peril of cold drafts and damp places, hours of weariness and moments of acute annoyance for the sake of what, to a man, is an unimportant social matter. And even though at times she feels that it would matter little if the whole social scheme of things should perish—and that instantly with fire and bloodshed if need be—rather than require so much of her, she stands to her colors.

A Nap on a 40-Mile Wind.

It was not so long ago that a ten-mile breeze would upset all flying plans for a day at any airdrome or exhibition field. Now nothing short of a hurricane can keep the machines on the ground. As far as the ability to make good weather of it is concerned the airman of today can laugh at a gale and fairly take a nap sitting on a 40-mile wind.—William A. Bishop, V. C., S. O., M. C., in Saturday Evening Post.

America's First Library.

The first library in America was opened at Harvard college 280 years ago. For more than sixty years the Harvard collection of books was the only one of importance on the continent, but in 1700 a public library was founded, and in 1731 Benjamin Franklin started a subscription library at Philadelphia, the first of its kind in America. The library of the United States, now called the library of congress, was established in 1800. The first public library recorded in history was founded at Athens in the year 540 B. C.

Derivation of "Major."

Major, like mayor, is from the Latin word major, greater, the comparative of magnus, great. The French for the same adjective is maieur, the Italian maggiore; major, by the way, is the Spanish form. A major is "greater" than a captain, but less than a lieutenant colonel. He is the lowest field officer.

X-Ray Movies.

The X-ray apparatus, operated in connection with the motion picture machine, produces effective and somewhat startling results. Photographs showing the human skeleton in motion are also of interest to science.

Cheese Easily Digested.

Contrary to opinion held by many people, cheddar or "store" cheese is not unusually indigestible or constipating. Extensive digestion experiments conducted by the department of agriculture have demonstrated that more than 95 per cent of the protein in cheese is digested and that 90 per cent of its energy is available. One person who ate cheese as the chief source of protein and energy, eating an average of 0.27 ounces daily for more than two years, did a fair amount of muscular work and remained in good health.

Had Elephants Break Step.

It is a tradition among newspaper men—and one that may be founded on fact—that in the old days when Barnum's elephants were marched across the Brooklyn bridge, in the quiet hours before daybreak, the keepers were instructed to prevent the huge animals from keeping step lest the superposition of strong vibrations might injure the structure.

Never Suffer From Overwork.

People who keep their minds clear and cool, who take things philosophically as they come; who discipline their wills to look on the cheerful side of things; who eat what they need, proportioned to their physical activity; who take stimulants not at all or, if they ever do, never take them to whip their flagging strength—such people can do a prodigious amount of work and never dream of such a thing as "overwork."

Musical Expression in Children.

A writer says: "The greater part of children's time is spent in elaborate impersonation and make-believe, and the entire basis of their education is acquired through this directly assimilative faculty." This applies most forcibly to music and gives to those who have the care of children almost unlimited opportunity for developing musical expression.

Help the Child.

A child is prey to many fears which have little to do with physical cowardice. The sensitive child is positively afraid of many things without realizing he is afraid. What he needs is to be given a greater confidence in life and in himself.

Warm Though Far North.

It is difficult to realize, but it is none the less true that the "[illegible]" coast of Russia is [illegible] King William Land, where [illegible] Franklin and his men [illegible] Erebus and the Terror. [illegible] Gulf Stream makes all the climatic difference. For that reason it is possible for Quebec to be much farther south than London, and New York to be on the parallels of latitude of Spain and yet have winters of great severity.—Christian Science Monitor.

Flower Friends

Flowers cost so little and they mean so much. We need not go to fashionable florists for our messengers. One rose bought from a tray on the street may mean more than the handsomest design on Fifth avenue. It is these little things, these beautiful personal expressions, that make our flowers worth while. But they must have a message or they cannot deliver it. Remember that.—New York Telegram.

Wise Man Is Patient.

A physician is not angry at the intemperance of a mad patient, nor does he take it ill to be railed at by a man in a fever. Just so should a wise man treat all mankind, as a physician treats a patient, and look upon them only as sick and extravagant.—Seneca.

The Pipe of Peace.

What is the magic of a corncob pipe? No matter how peevish or irritable my husband may be, when he is smoking his Missouri meerschaum he will do anything I ask. Couldn't something about corncob pipes be put in the marriage ceremony?—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Unnecessary Risk.

"Brother Philander," said I to our head deacon the other day, "don't you believe a man can get to heaven without even dropping a cent into the contribution box?" "I suppose so," answered old Philander, "and when you are sick with typhoid fever or any other disease you can doctor yourself. You are taking the chances."—Osborne Farmer.

Popular Kind of Freedom.

"Freedom to do what they ought not do," remarked the man on the car, "is the only kind of liberty that appeals to some fellows."—Toledo Blade.

And the "Wise" Do It.

Perhaps one reason why fools are always rushing into trouble is because they seem to know they can always call to the wise to come and help them out.—Detroit Free Press.

Record for Divers.

In salvaging the United States submarine F-4, which was sunk off Honolulu in March, 1915, divers went down to a depth of about 300 feet and adjusted chains and cables and directed operations of men at the surface. This is said to have broken all diving records.

Happiness.

The man who cannot be happy with whatever little he may have could not be happy with whatever much he may want. Happiness is a condition within a man that is not dependent upon the things without.

Sable Philosopher.

De hymn tells you 'bout bein' "in Heaven a thousand years," but dar's some folks what couldn't stand sich long time prosperity.—Atlanta Constitution.

Plantfood in Soil.

A chemical analysis cannot show the amount of available plantfood in a soil. A chemist could, without difficulty, make an artificial soil containing every element of plantfood in abundance, and yet be perfectly sterile. Peat, for example, is usually very rich in nitrogen, but it is locked up or unavailable. To pulverize it and mix it with lime is to change it into a highly nutritious soil.

Impossible.

You could not persuade a man that a homely girl is a good manicurist.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

How Vines Draw on Soil.

Vines are said to extract yearly from the soil only about three-fourths of the quantity of potash and sulphuric acid that cereals take up.

World's Coal Areas.

A good authority gives the coal area of the world in square miles as follows: United States, 192,000; British America, 18,000; Great Britain, 12,000; Spain, 4,000; France, 2,000; Germany, 1,800; Belgium, 518; rest of Europe, 100,000; China, 2,000; Japan, 5,000. Coal is found in commercial quantities in 27 of the states and territories of the United States and Alaska.

Preserving Frescoes.

A novel method of preserving frescoes, recently discovered by a Japanese, consists in coating them with thin glass, which is made to adhere through the agency of specially prepared chemicals. The new method is said to make the frescoes proof against the injurious action of the atmosphere.

Wouldn't Take Advice.

Dot and her brother were playing on the woodshed roof and her brother fell into a barrel that was standing beneath it. Afterward she said to her mother: "I told him right away after he fell in that he should fall back again, but he wouldn't."

Another Theory Shattered.

Fat people don't really laugh louder than thin ones. It just shakes 'em up more.

A Morning Breeze.

The Jokesmith's Wife (2 a. m.)—"Aw, c'm on to bed, you! Want to sit up all night knocking the weather and us poor girls?" Well, what though the temperature was 160 degrees in the dark, the little remark caused a temporary coolness.

Rebuff Discourteous.

Augustin Daly, who was regarded by the general public as one of the most frog-blooded of men, was standing in the lobby of his theater one evening when he was approached by an actor, who presented his card and inquired: "Do you recognize the profession?" "Did you ever see me stop and speak to one of them?" was the freezing reply.

The Times That Are No More.

Old memories fade—but many a man can remember the time he helped move an old-fashioned square piano up or down stairs.

Never Too Old to Learn.

It has often been said that a man cannot learn a new trade after he is forty, but this statement has frequently been disproved. Peter S. Du Ponceau was eighty when he wrote his valuable treatise on the Cochin Chinese language, and had only then recently taken up the study; and the late John Bigelow was still an author turning out a book when he passed his ninety-fifth birthday.

Use for Kansas Sunflower.

Americans, especially those who live in the Sunflower state of Kansas, will be interested in knowing that the cultivation of the sunflower is being urged in England because its seeds are rich in oil and valuable as chicken feed.—The People's Home Journal.

The Cinque Ports.

"The cinque ports" of England are the "five ports," Dover, Sandwich, Hythe, Romney and Hastings. In Saxon and succeeding times they were bound to furnish ships for the purpose of repelling invasion, and in return were granted special privileges. Rye and Winchelsea were afterward added to them. To be appointed warden of the cinque ports is still considered a very high honor.

Physical Exertion and Heart Trouble.

The only way of surely determining whether a sufferer from an irritable heart can bear extensive exertion is to put him through a series of gradually increasing exercises, states British Medical Journal, with careful examination after exercise.

Doing One's Best Work.

To do one's best work and be one's best self involves the quiet but final acceptance of such tools as have been put into one's hands and such materials as lie about one. To be happy and useful and to contribute to the joy of life one must take up the work at hand and do it as best he may, without envy, jealousy, or strife. —The Outlook.

Famous Blarney Castle.

The ruins of old Blarney castle are a few miles outside of Cork, surrounded by pleasant Irish fields and gorgeous hawthorne hedges. The huge square tower stands as firm and true now as in the days when old Cormac McCarthy ruled over the land of Munster. The old chieftain built his castle to withstand English guns and English diplomacy and Blarney castle has kept the trust.

Mischievous Magpie.

Birds of the magpie kind are like monkeys, full of mischief, play, and mimicry. There is a story of a tame magpie that was seen busily employed in a garden gathering pebbles, and with so much solemnity and a studied air dropping them in a hole made to receive a post. After dropping each stone it cried "Currack!" triumphantly, and set off for another. On examining the spot a toad was found in the hole, which the magpie was stoning for his amusement.

Grandmother in Eighteen Days.

A lady green bug becomes a grandmother in 18 days. One can imagine, then, notes a naturalist, the multitudinous armies of these insects that may develop in the course of a season. Their worst foe is a tiny black four-winged fly that deposits an egg in each bug it comes across, its larva consuming the bug's inside works and using its shell for a house.

First Glass Eyes.

Oddly enough, the first artificial eyes were not made for living persons, but for the dead. In the days of the earliest Pharaohs the Egyptian embalmers removed the eyes, poured plaster or wax into the sockets and set in eyes of volcanic glass or some precious stone.

You Are an Heir.

We like to preach the doctrine of contentment. Now, there is no man so content as the man who is heir to a great estate, and you are heir to the greatest estate that ever was, namely, the whole earth. Once the earth was owned in common by all the people. Well, are you not an heir of the original owners? It is nothing at all to own just a little corner of the world and no more. All of it is yours if you have eyes to see, ears to hear and the heart to feel.—Los Angeles Times.

Highland Proclamation.

The following is a proclamation said to have been once issued at Kenmore: "A ane time, ho yes! an' a twa time, ho yes! and a tree time, ho yes! To a' them wha ha' gotten the spoke (English), no persons, at no time after nor prefore, will pu' peats nor howk heather on my Lord Preatnippin's moss, or my lordship to pe surely will preught them perfore her to be peheatet, and syne hangt; and gin she'll come back till pe waur done till her nor a' tat."

Any Honest Task Attractive.

Any honest task is capable of being so largely conceived that he who enters into it may see, stretching before him, the promise of things to do and be, that will stir his enthusiasm and satisfy his best desires.—Phillips Brooks.

Banishing Troubles.

Quick is the succession of human events; the cares of today are seldom the cares of tomorrow; and when we lie down at night, we may safely say to most of our troubles: "Ye have done your worst, and we shall meet no more."—Cowper.

The King Got His.

Solomon, a London musician, had as pupil King George II. One day, when the king had not distinguished himself by great practice or skill in playing, the teacher gave him the following classification of fiddlers. "Fiddlers, your majesty, may be divided into three classes: To the first belong those who cannot play at all; to the second those who play badly; and to the third those who play well. You, sire, have already reached the second class."

Names of South American Countries.

Mexico is a Spanish rendering, or combination, of Aztec words meaning the place of the war god. Brazil seems to have derived its name from the legendary island of Brazil (later identified with one of the Azores), because it was found to produce a red wood resembling brazil wood. Chile and Peru are of aboriginal origin. Argentina is an invented name based on the Latin word for silver, as Rio de la Plata, the name of its chief river, means silver river in Spanish.

Courage and Cowardice.

The thin line between courage and cowardice is none too distinctly drawn, for it rides astride fear. And it must seem inane to be told how one can be either a coward or a courageous man, depending altogether upon which side of the line one takes the first step, but the formula has held good in actual practice in our very best war. —From "Am I a Coward?" by Eugene L. Harrison, in Physical Culture.

New Waterproofing Oil.

A French oil for waterproofing leather, cloth, paper and other materials is a mixture of eight parts of amyl acetate and four of castor oil, with one part of sulphur chloride stirred into it. Though this form a jelly, giving off hydrochloric acid, it liquefies after being kept tightly covered a few days, and, the acid being then neutralized with barium carbonate, gives a colorless solution on filtering. To make a varnish, nitrocellulose is dissolved in the liquid after the addition of alcohol or benzine.

Quality That Counts.

It is no great matter to associate with the good and gentle; for this is naturally pleasing to all, and every one willing enjoyeth peace, and loveth those best that agree with him. But to be able to live peaceably with hard and perverse persons, or with the disorderly, or with such as go contrary to us, is a great grace, and a most commendable and manly thing. —Thomas a Kempis.

Castanets.

Castanets are musical instruments of percussion in the form of two hollow nut-shells, which are bound together by a band fastened on the thumb, and struck by the fingers to produce a thrilling sound in keeping with the rhythm of the music. The castanets were introduced into Spain by the Moors, where they retain the name of castanolas, from their resemblance to the form of the chestnut. The castanets were once much used in the ballet and in the opera.

Destructive Grasshoppers.

Nowendoc, N. S. W., is periodically plagued with grasshoppers, and during their visits the local hen eggs cannot be eaten. Yolk and white are blood-red, a result of the fowls swallowing the insects.

Naturalization Papers.

Naturalization papers are issued by any federal court or state court of record. A fee of $1 is charged at the time of the declaration of intentions and of $4 when the petition for complete naturalization is filed.

Worrying Over Trifles.

Small causes are sufficient to make a man uneasy, when great ones are not in the way; for want of a block he will stumble at a straw.—Swift.

The Good Done Unto Us.

We speak much of the duty of doing good to others, but too often we forget to count the good that others are continually doing to us. Intentionally or unintentionally, in kindness, in selfishness, in carelessness, they press upon us on every hand, and our lives are shaped and molded by those about us. Even the unreasonable and incongenial—where we fancy the benefit is all of our bestowing—may be wonderful teachers of sanity and patience.

Begin Today.

Each one must work out his own salvation in conquering the habit of idle thought, and today is a good time to start the work.—Agnes Greene Fisher.

From the Ancient Greeks.

"To throw dust in one's eyes" is a saying derived from the ancient Greeks. Epaminondas, wishing to surprise the Lacedemonians, is said to have caused 1,000 cavalrymen to advance in front, kicking up a great dust which the wind blew into the faces of the enemy, thus blinding them to a flank movement he was executing with a view to taking the coveted heights in the rear.

Wedding Cake.

The wedding cake has from time immemorial formed among us an important item in the matrimonial banquet. This is a relic of the Roman period, when the pagan marriage ceremony consisted principally of the contracting parties partaking of a cake made of flour, salt and water, in the presence of the Pontifex Maximus of high priest and ten witnesses.

Changes Always Going On.

Nothing in nature is absolutely permanent. Changes are going on slowly, but steadily, every moment, parts of the earth being elevated above the sea, parts sinking below it, the ocean wearing away the coast in one place and building it out in another, and so on to infinity.

Greatness.

No one ever went seeking after greatness and found it; it is essentially a by-product. Fame of a certain sort may be acquired by direct effort, wealth can be won by those who place its possession first, and notoriety is not hard to compass; but real greatness comes to those who are not busy seeking it.

Goat Furnishes Milk and Churn.

About 70 miles northwest of Mount Sinai—where, as you remember, Moses received the Commandments—is a butter factory, the machinery of which has not been improved since his day. It consists of a bag of goat skin suspended from a tripod of poles. The Bedouin women partly fill the bag with goats' milk and then have plenty of time to discuss the neighbors as they patiently rock the bag until the butter is separated from the whey.—Popular Science Monthly.

Still a Chance.

"I thought I was the most unpopular man in this club, but they say Pillson over there can beat me." "But, my dear fellow, he has been a member longer than you have. Don't be discouraged."—Life.
